The fourth edition of the BRAU Biennale offers a journey through heritage Architectural and Urban submerged in the Mediterranean Sea or concealed underground and inside the buildings of the countries that face (see. Map below), in search of time and past cultures.

This choice is not casual, but is closely related to an aspect of great social and cultural relevance: MIGRATION, and merges with the conviction that the sharing of cultural heritage, tangible or intangible, is among the most powerful instruments of pacification among peoples, because it is the source of many cultural models shared among them.
